In My Blood It Runs

Ten-year-old Djujan is a child-healer, a good hunter and speaks three languages. As he shares his wisdom of history and the complex world around him we see his spark and intelligence. Yet Djujan is 'failing' in school and facing increasing scrutiny from welfare and the police. We walk with him as he grapples with these pressures, shares his truths and somewhere in-between finds space to dream, imagine and hope for his future self.

Narragunnawali Curriculum Resources

Use Narragunnawali's early learning, primary and secondary curriculum resources to promote reconciliation and to strengthen children and students' knowledge and understanding of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander histories, cultures and contributions. The resources can be used as they are or adapted to suit the local community context.

The Australian Institute of Aboriginal & Torres Strait Islander Studies

AIATSIS is a research institute that houses the world's most comprehensive collection of books, moving images, sound recordings and photographs relating to Australian Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples. Explore the Institute collections here.

ABC Education – Indigenous Resources

New DC comic book superhero Thylacine

There's a new Aboriginal superhero in the DC Universe and she's a deadly Ngarluma hunter from the Pilbara.

Codenamed Thylacine, she boasts night vision, heightened senses, lethal combat skills, Batman-like stealth, and a steely suffer-no-fools gaze.

The Final Quarter

Based on Adam Goodes was a champion AFL footballer and Indigenous leader and the final three years of his playing career when he became a lightning rod for a heated public debate and widespread media commentary that divided the nation. Cool Australia has produced 52 lessons for Years 5–12 that investigate themes raised in the film.

Colouring in Artworks
